TALLAHASSEE DEMOCRAT

Now that official qualifying has come and gone, the assessments of incumbents and their challengers begin in earnest. The race to see who will be Mayor of Tallahassee for the next four years has been a “lively” one in recent weeks and is undoubtedly gaining steam and greater attention by the day. Whether it is the Tallahassee Democrat questioning current Mayor John Marks’ willingness to participate in Forums, challenger Steve Stewart’s relentless efforts to bring Tallahassee’s budget, spending and other issues into question and forefront for discussion, or other political dynamics, this race has become one of growing interest in the Tallahassee community. A third candidate, Larry Hendricks, has also officially qualified for the election and he will have the opportunity to present his case for Mayor to the Capital Tiger Bay Club membership and their guests as well. Please join us on Thursday, July 1, 2010 at the Civic Center as the Tiger Bay 2010 political season kicks off with an important Candidates Forum for Tallahassee’s Mayor.

Mark Your Calendar: Thursday night, October 14, 2010, Tallahassee-Leon County Civic Center, Tiger At Bay Gala featuring Ken Rudin, Political Editor for National Public Radio (NPR) and creator of the “Political Junkie” report and blog on NPR.
